

What to do...

1. What do the people you live with always say?
2. Draw a picture of someone you live with.
3. Write something they always say in the speech bubble beside them.

If I've said it once...!

Speech bubbles are often used to indicate speech in picture books and comics. They are also an important step to help children understand how to write speech before learning to use speech marks.

© Hamilton Trust, 2008. Y1.

